Do not calculate copied profile Closed - Fixed

When you are calculating a profile, then copy it, the copied profile is also calculating. This is very annoying because I'm copying a profile so I can use (change) it. Now I have to wait for it to finish calculating. I try to remember to copy before calculating... but even then I would have to copy, go back to the other profile and calculate it. It adds extra steps to take when you are making (many) profiles.
