Analytics: select campaign e-mails Open Discussion

In the analytics dashboards, we're able to choose campaign emails. However, if we need to update our selection, we're forced to start over by reselecting the campaign and emails. Additionally, we lose visibility into the previously selected emails. It would be beneficial to introduce the option to modify our selection, ideally using select boxes, while also displaying the already selected emails. This enhancement would improve usability.

If you have an ongoing campaign and want to display a report in analytics for (some of) the emails, you can choose the campaign and then select the relevant emails. However, it's not possible to see which emails you selected afterward.

Additionally, to modify this, you have to first select the campaign again and then choose the emails. It would be helpful if the selected (and unselected) emails were shown and could be adjusted without having to select the entire campaign.

Als je een campagne hebt lopen en van een (deel) van de e-mails een rapportage in analytics wil tonen kun je de campagne kiezen en daarna de betreffende e-mails. Echter is achteraf niet te zien welke e-mails je hebt gekozen.

Ook moet je om dit aan te passen weer eerst de campagne kiezen om vervolgens de e-mails te selecteren. Het zou fijn zijn als de gekozen (en niet gekozen) mails getoond worden en aangepast kunnen worden zonder de hele campagne te selecteren.
