Restrict specific profiles with acces rights Open Discussion

We would like to be able to adjust the rights of specific profiles, so that only a limited group has access.
All our Deployteq users should have access to creating profiles and a few so-called "master" profiles. But there are also a number of profiles that we only want to allow a limited number of users to. If a change is accidentally made in certain profiles, we will have a big problem with certain broadcasts. We want to close this by working with rights per profile. We would like to see this feature in Deployteq.
